When people pay their yearly subscription to be a member of DATA, many make a donation, from $5 to $1000. The generosity of people is remarkable.

The DATA Committee wishes to thank all those who have made a donation. It is greatly appreciated.

Caring can take many forms, but it is done with selflessness and love.

It can be challenging. It can be rewarding. It can be frustrating.

Many of you have cared for a loved one. It would be wonderful to hear from you, so share your story. You may have looked after your spouse while they were on home dialysis, or a loved one with dementia.

Did you get frustrated, angry or upset?

How did you cope? Did you get help? Did you look after yourself?
